Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1500 on Thursday 29 Apr 2021

UK Outlook for Friday 14 May 2021 to Friday 28 May 2021:
Confidence is very low for this outlook as is typical of late spring. A mixture of sunny/clear spells and showers is likely, especially at first, with areas in the south experiencing the most settled conditions. In the north there is an increased chance of more unsettled weather, with stronger winds and longer periods of rain arriving from the Atlantic at times. Temperatures will most likely be around average for the time of year.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.